INTRODUCTION

La parution d'un Index philonien dans la série Biblia Patristica, même à titre de Supplément, peut légitimement surprendre. Philon, Philo Judaeus selon ses anciens éditeurs, n'a rien d'un Père de l'Eglise. Il s'est constamment et fièrement réclamé du judaïsme. Mais les auteurs chrétiens des premiers siècles ont été des lecteurs assidus et attentifs de l'œuvre du maître alexandrin. Certaines traditions chrétiennes ont même retenu un épisode légendaire selon lequel Philon aurait rencontré Pierre à Rome sous le règne de Claude (Eusèbe, Hist. eccl. II, 17, 1).

Les méthodes de Philon, ses exégèses bibliques, ses idées philosophiques ont profondément marqué des siècles de théologie chrétienne. Ces influences sont souvent directes et conscientes ; parfois même Philon est nommément cité. Mais dans de nombreux cas rien ne vient signaler l'origine philonienne d'une exégèse et c'est au lecteur de savoir discerner le recours à tel traité du bibliste alexandrin. Il est donc souhaitable de toujours mieux mesurer l'importance de l'écho des exégèses philoniennes dans les écrits chrétiens. Cela ne peut se faire qu'au terme d'études de détail et de comparaisons minutieuses entre les développements de Philon et ceux des Pères. Le Centre d'Analyse et de Documentation Patristiques (CADP) s'est contenté d'établir un instrument préparatoire destiné à faciliter ces études et ces comparaisons. D'où le présent Index : nous espérons qu'il sera aussi bien accueilli que ses devanciers, exclusivement consacrés au domaine patristique.

L'index biblique d'un auteur juif doit nécessairement tenir compte du canon reconnu par cet auteur. Nous présentons donc un relevé des références (citations et allusions) au seul Ancien Testament, livres deutérocanoniques compris. En plusieurs cas, les mots ou les idées de Philon évoquent tel ou tel passage du Nouveau Testament, mais il ne nous appartient pas de signaler ces rapprochements, dont l'interprétation exige une étude particulière et qui peuvent même à la rigueur s'expliquer par une influence philonienne sur les premiers écrits chrétiens. En toute hypothèse, les relations de Philon avec le Nouveau Testament ne peuvent être mises sur le même pied que celles qu'il entretient volontairement et continûment avec l'Ancien Testament.

On a retenu comme texte de référence la plus récente édition : Les Oeuvres de Philon d'Alexandrie publiées par R. Arnaldez, C. Mondésert et J. Pouilloux, 1961 ss (OPA dans notre liste des sigles). Certes, le texte philonien y est dans la plupart des cas celui de l'édition critique de L. Cohn, P. Wendland et J. Reiter, Berlin, 1896-1930 (avec les Indices de J. Leisegang), mais la relative rareté de cet instrument de travail conseillait de choisir une édition plus largement répandue dans les bibliothèques personnelles des chercheurs. De plus l'édition lyonnaise reprend la division du texte en paragraphes introduite par L. Cohn. De ce fait les références données dans le présent Index demeurent entièrement utilisables avec l'édition de Cohn-Wendland. Nous avons retenu les abréviations des titres des œuvres philoniennes utilisées dans l'édition de référence, sauf lorsque les contraintes informatiques ne nous ont pas permis d'en respecter l'énoncé intégral.

Nous déplorons que les circonstances n'aient pas permis à l'entreprise lyonnaise de mener à terme son édition dans les délais primitivement prévus : au fur et à mesure que notre travail progressait, il devenait de plus en plus évident qu'il faudrait analyser les livres III et IV des Quaestiones in Genesim et les Quaestiones in Exodum dans une autre édition, en l'occurrence celle de Loeb Classical Library. On introduisait ainsi une regrettable disparité dans l'Index, mais il fallait choisir entre cette solution de compromis et un retard dont nul ne pouvait évaluer la durée. Nous n'avons pu nous résoudre à remettre sine die la publication du présent Index.

Signalons deux autres exceptions : les fragments des deux derniers des trois traités auxquels l'édition française avait l'intention de consacrer son tome 35 : De Providentia, Hypothetica (Apologia pro ludaeis), Alexander. En fait, le tome 35 ne contient que le seul De Providentia. L'édition des deux autres traités n'étant pas même annoncée à ce jour, il fallait, ici encore, pallier cette absence : nous l'avons fait en recourant aux éditions respectives de K. Mras et J.B. Aucher. Sans prétendre donner ici une introduction exhaustive à ces deux fragments d'œuvre, il faut en rappeler brièvement l'identité. Eusèbe (Hist. eccl. II, 18, 6) les mentionne tous les deux dans sa liste des œuvres philoniennes. L'Alexander est le troisième des traités conservés en arménien, édités par J.B. Aucher (Philonis Judaei sermones tres hactenus inediti, Venetiis 1822) qui l'intitule : De animalibus. Il est vraisemblable que les Hypothetica (le mot est sans doute à prendre dans le sens d'accusations, évidemment lancées contre les Juifs), où Philon s'exprime « en faveur des Juifs » et que cite Eusèbe dans la Préparation évangélique, sont à identifier avec l'Apologie pour les Juifs, citée un peu plus loin dans le même ouvrage, et avec le Peri loudaiôn mentionné dans la liste de l'Histoire ecclésiastique (II, 18, 6).

Enfin, d'autres fragments de moindre ampleur, négligés par le programme de l'édition lyonnaise, ont dû être repérés et analysés dans d'autres éditions. E. Junod présente dans les pages suivantes le résultat de ce travail, auquel il s'est particulièrement attaché.

Sur la foi des études philoniennes récentes, nous avons écarté, comme [illegible] de nombreuses œuvres ou traités attribués à Philon. Ce sont les [illegible] De mundo, De Sampsone, De [illegible] [illegible]

Les abréviations et l'ordre des livres bibliques sont :

Les divisions en chapitres et versets sont données d'après la numérotation des éditions du texte massorétique (à l'exception des livres propres à la version des Septante où nous suivons la numérotation de Rahlfs).

Les signes utilisés dans l'Index sont :

1) à côté de la référence biblique :

P le texte de la référence biblique n'est que le premier d'une série de parallèles dont on n'a pas cru devoir encombrer l'Index.

V le texte de la référence biblique n'a pu être fourni que par une version (non précisée). La numérotation de la référence est cependant toujours rapportée à l'hébreu.

\+ attribution biblique inexacte dans le texte philonien.

2) à côté de la référence au texte philonien :

\+ placé après le chiffre de la ligne, ce signe indique que la référence biblique est reprise dans le paragraphe en question à l'intérieur de la page considérée.

\+ placé simultanément après les chiffres du paragraphe et de la ligne, ce signe indique que la référence biblique est reprise dans le ou les paragraphes suivants d'un même chapitre.

Comme les précédents tomes de la Biblia Patristica, celui-ci a bénéficié du travail de plusieurs collaborateurs extérieurs à l'équipe du CADP. Nous voulons mentionner particulièrement J. Duplacy, J. Fleury et G. Valayer. Notre dette de reconnaissance envers eux est grande.

Le CADP est redevable pour ses travaux informatiques de l'assistance technique du Centre de Calcul du Centre National de la Recherche Scientifique à Strasbourg-Cronenbourg et des matériels mis à sa disposition par l'Université des Sciences Humaines (Strasbourg II) dans son Service Informatique de Recherche.

Seule l'équipe du CADP assume la responsabilité de l'Index qu'elle a établi. Au moment de la rédaction elle était ainsi composée :

Jean Allenbach, ingénieur au CNRS,
André Benoît, professeur à l'Université de Strasbourg II,
Daniel A. Bertrand, chargé de recherche au CNRS,
Annie Hanriot-Coustet, collaboratrice technique au CNRS,
Eric Junod, professeur à l'Université de Lausanne,
Pierre Maraval, maître-assistant à l'Université de Strasbourg II,
André Pautler, collaborateur technique au CNRS,

LES FRAGMENTS GRECS TRANSMIS ET ÉDITÉS SOUS LE NOM DE PHILON.

Liste des fragments non identifiés par les éditeurs et attribuables à un traité connu ; liste des fragments en mal d'attribution.

Objet de cette étude

Plusieurs extraits et fragments de textes philoniens sont d'un accès difficile, ce qui leur vaut d'être généralement négligés par les spécialistes de l'écrivain alexandrin. On pensera en premier lieu à l'intéressant morceau édité sous le titre De Deo, conservé en arménien et traduit en latin par J.B. Aucher (1). Mais il existe aussi nombre de fragments grecs transmis par divers canaux (2) (florilèges damascéniens, chroniques byzantines, Jean Lydus, chaînes exégétiques grecques, Epitomé de Procope) et édités dans divers ouvrages.

La majorité de ces fragments provient des Questions sur la Genèse et des Questions sur l'Exode ; ils ont été récemment réunis par Mademoiselle F. Petit (3). D'autres sont issus de traités philoniens transmis par la tradition directe. D'autres, enfin, sont vraisemblablement extraits de traités perdus ; en tout cas, ils n'ont pu être attribués à un ouvrage connu par la tradition directe.

C'est à ce dernier groupe — les fragments édités sous le nom de Philon et non encore réattribués — qu'est principalement consacrée cette étude. Notre propos est très limité. Il ne s'agit pas de proposer une nouvelle édition de ces fragments, ni même de discuter leur authenticité philonienne ou leur origine. Nous voulons simplement fournir la liste de ces fragments et indiquer le lieu où on pourra commodément les consulter. Nous espérons que l'établissement de cette liste favorisera la lecture et l'étude de ces morceaux méconnus.

En élaborant cette liste, nous avons évidemment vérifié si les fragments en question ne pouvaient pas être attribués à un traité. De fait, certains d'entre eux ont pu l'être, et nous les signalons séparément.

Il faut encore préciser que les fragments philoniens répertoriés dans cette étude n'englobent pas les citations et allusions philoniennes, plus ou moins littérales, que l'on peut trouver dans la littérature chrétienne des premiers siècles (cf. surtout Clément d'Alexandrie, Origène, Ambroise...). Par fragments nous entendons exclusivement les morceaux transmis dans des collections (florilèges, chaînes...) de citations (4).

Les éditions de fragments philoniens de J.R. Harris à F. Petit

Le vaste recueil de fragments édités par J.R. Harris (5) nous servira de point de départ. Certes, la consultation d'éditions antérieures (Mangey, Lequien, etc...) a pu révéler quelques très rares omissions dans la moisson de Harris, mais elles semblent avoir été repérées depuis lors.

Le travail accompli par Harris est à la fois considérable et d'excellente qualité. Non seulement les fragments antérieurement édités (surtout par Nicéphore, Mangey, Lequien, Mai, Pitra, Tischendorf, Cramer) sont repris et parfois collationnés à frais nouveaux, mais de nouveaux morceaux ont été repérés. En outre, le savant anglais est parvenu à identifier de nombreux fragments.

Ce travail d'édition et d'identification a été poursuivi et complété par plusieurs spécialistes : P. Wendland, K. Praechter, K. Staehle, H. Lewy, L. Früchtel, R. Marcus et R. Devreesse (6).

Dans toutes ces collections, les fragments provenant des Questions sur la Genèse et des Questions sur l'Exode se taillent la part du lion. Or le dossier des fragments issus des Questions vient d'être réexaminé, complété et excellement édité par F. Petit. Son édition représente un progrès tout à la fois quantitatif et qualitatif. En effet, F. Petit ne s'est pas bornée à recourir directement aux manuscrits, mais elle a aussi repéré plusieurs fragments nouveaux. Son travail prolonge et dépasse ceux de ses devanciers.

Depuis cette publication, le problème est devenu plus simple et plus clair. Si l'on veut consulter les fragments des Questions sur la Genèse et des Questions sur l'Exode, on peut recourir exclusivement à l'édition de F. Petit (7). Si l'on veut consulter les autres fragments grecs de Philon, il faut recourir aux éditions de Harris, Wendland et Lewy.

Liste des fragments édités par Harris, Wendland et Lewy, non identifiés par leur éditeur et identifiés depuis lors.

Parmi les fragments philoniens que Harris, Wendland et Lewy citent comme non identifiés, il en est que F. Petit a pu réattribuer aux Questions. A notre tour, en nous aidant notamment du précieux Index verborum de G. Mayer (8), nous avons procédé à plusieurs identifications. Voici la liste de ces réattributions.

Pour les traités philoniens, nous utiliserons les abréviations de la collection « Les œuvres de Philon d'Alexandrie » (publiées sous le patronage de l'Université de Lyon). Pour désigner les fragments publiés sans numérotation par Harris, nous indiquerons la page et les lignes, avec mention de la colonne (a et b) quand il y a lieu.

Liste des fragments édités par Harris, Wendland et Lewy et qui restent non identifiés.

Cette liste ne prétend pas donner un label philonien aux fragments signalés ; sans se prononcer sur leur authenticité, elle se limite à mentionner les fragments édités sous le nom de Philon et non réattribués à un traité connu. Il arrive du reste que l'auteur émette des réserves sur la paternité philonienne du morceau qu'il reproduit.
